1. [redacted] telephoned me from Salt Lake City, Utah, about [redacted] with whom Bill was most favorably impressed and whom he recommended very highly for our Career Training Program. However, Robert has received two offers from industry at $700 a month, which we cannot match. I agreed with Bill that he should tell Robert that we cannot match this salary and that, unless he is interested in joining our Career Training Program at a lesser salary, he might accept the offer from IBM, in which case we might well be able to interest him at their salary at some later date after he has had IBM experience. (I advised [redacted] of the above.)*

4. I attended a meeting chaired by Mr. Kirkpatrick and attended by [redacted] which was called in order to decide whether part of the USIB Secretariat should be evicted from the seventh floor in order to make room for the expanded DD/I operations center. Kirk decided that the USIB Secretariat would not be evicted, much to the unhappiness of the DD/I representatives.

5. At noon today we had a very impressive ceremony at which the Director presented the Distinguished Intelligence Medal to General Carter, introduced Admiral Raborn and Mr. Helms, and made some farewell remarks to the Agency representatives present. I thought that the ceremony went well indeed. However, I understand that the music before and after the ceremony was rather sad. I understand the reasons for this fully. However, it might be a good idea to have an appropriate tape recording available to play on such occasions when an organist with a livelier touch is not available.**

6. General Carter telephoned to say that his daughter Mary would be writing to the Director of Personnel to withdraw her application for summer employment. I told General Carter that we would be glad to honor Mary's application and did not feel that it would be in violation of the spirit of our policy. He felt very strongly about this, however, and I said that, if this was what he wanted, we would certainly accept her letter of withdrawal.
